John Lewis Parents' Forum

School Uniform! Does this make you see red? - The General Manager of John Lewis in Reading is coming on Monday 26th February at 7.30 p.m. to listen to the concerns you have. If you have ever voiced a complaint to me, now is your chance to speak directly to John Lewis. Can you ever complain again if you don't take this opportunity now? Please let the office know if you will be attending.

Open Afternoon

There will be an Open Afternoon for prospective parents on Thursday from 2-4pm. If you know of friends or neighbours who are looking at possible schools for their children, why not invite them to come along and see the school in action!

BOOK WEEK

As Book Week comes to St Piran's next week, we are asking for some willing volunteers to assist with the book selling after school for an hour each day.

This will be from 3.30pm to 4.20pm Monday to Thursday. The more books we sell the more books we can buy for our own school libraries.

To make this easy for you, we have put up a sheet in the school foyer which we would be grateful if you could put up your name for an afternoon.

Thank you.

Readathon

We have sent home today details of Readathon which is being launched on Monday to coincide with the start of Book Week. The benefit of the children taking part in this national charity drive, is that, along with raising money for worthy causes, it will encourage them to read more frequently and widely.

The Readathon runs from Monday 26th February until Friday 16th March. Please could sponsorship money and forms be returned by Friday 23rd March?

Book Fayre

Thank you for your orders; it's not too late to send them in.

St Piran's Society will be manning the stall between 3.30 p.m. and 4.20 p.m., contrary to prior information. Do come in and have a look.
